All the World Loves Lovers

Prefab Sprout

All the world loves lovers
All the world loves people in love
Don't forget it
Don't forget it
Love, whatever the priceAll the world loves lovers
All the world loves people in love
Don't forget it, love
Don't forget it, love
Love, whatever the price, loveYou and I won't lose our heads the way some lovers do
Saying, "This will last forever" when it's just a year or two
You and I won't be the fools that other lovers are Thinkin' every silver bottle top potentially a star stillAll the world loves lovers
All the world loves people in love
Don't forget it, love
Don't forget it, love
Love, whatever the priceAll the world loves lovers
All the world loves people in love
Don't forget it, love
Don't forget it, love
Love, whatever the priceWe won't make the promises that every lover makes
Only to find that all we've made are similar mistakes
No you and I won't wish for things like other lovers do
But let's cross our hearts and hope to die
If none of them come true 'causeAll the world loves lovers
All the world loves people in love
Don't forget it, love
Don't forget it, love
Love, whatever the priceAll the world loves lovers
All the world loves people in love
Don't forget it, love
Don't forget it, love
Love, whatever the priceAll the world loves lovers
Love, whatever the price
All the world loves lovers
Love, whatever the price
All the world loves lovers, love
