

Proof of Love

Paul Simon

Begin again
No easy trick
Without a guide or walking stick
Begin before the bells of twilight peal
Downhill town
The road ahead
Spiral, as a serpent's bed
A teaspoon of desire for my meal I trade my tears
To ask the Lord
For proof of love
If only for the consolation
Of gazing at the stars above
Amen, amen, amen
The road is steep
The air is thin
I hear a voice inside my skin
Don't be afraid Your days won't end with night
Feel the sun
Drink the rain
Let your body heal its pain
Bathe beneath a waterfall of light
I trade my tears
To ask the Lord
For proof of love If only for the explanation
That tells me what my dreams are made of
Amen, amen
The valley below
An ocean of debris
I ask the Lord
For proof of love
Love is all I seek
Love is all I seek
