

Canopy

Kim Churchill

I don't know what I can see.
Falling through the cracks, won't you come with me.
I've got no answers deep enough to believe.
Breaking through this canopy, I found comfort in the places I thought I didn't want to be.Falling.
Down it goes.
Falling.I have come to realize. There's more to the story than just breaking through the ice.
I've got no demons left to judge or deny.
Breaking through this canopy, I found comfort in the places I thought I didn't want to be.Falling.
Down it goes.
Falling.I fell down through this canopy.
Into the trees.
Down into this fortress that I know.I have come to realize. There's more to the story than just breaking through the ice.
I've got no demons left to judge or deny.
Breaking through this canopy, I found comfort in the places I thought I didn't want to be.Falling.
Down it goes.
Falling.
