

Losing You

The New Amsterdams

Stories been boarded up again
Old sins forgotten for new sins
Your habits get old
Your habits get old
I wanted to say
How I wanted to say
Miss the Valentine House sometimes
Good times compounded on good times
What's come over you since?
What's come over you since?
I wanted to say
How I wanted to say
Losing you, I would know
I feel partially responsible, I'm confused
And all I can do
Is quietly grin and resent you
Phone calls made with such urgency
Speaking half-truths
She doesn't know
What she doesn't know
Wanted to say
How I wanted to say
Losing you, I would know
I feel partially responsible, I'm confused
All I can do
Is quietly grin and resent you
