Made Up Stories

Go:Audio

Please won't you go back out I'm fast asleep cant deal with this no more on your way out please do turn off the light and close the door toodont come back and pretend to tell me the night you've had with your made up stories I was there but you didnt see me there you were and the floor was empty you and him getting more than friendly it was just a kiss but I could see you meant itI've brought your favourate coat I know how cold you get and you left it then standing out of view I just had to leave cause what I'd have done to youdont come back and pretend to tell me
the night you've had with your made up stories
but I could see you meant itthe saddest thing for me was I trusted you yeah endlessly so now the innocence you played just go save it for the other guy unseen.dont come back and pretend to tell me
the night you've had with your made up stories
I was there but you didnt see me
but I could see you meant itso dont come back and pretend to tell me
the night you've had with your made up stories
I was there but you didnt see me so dont come back and pretend to tell me
the night you've had with your made up stories
i was there but you didnt see me

but I could see you meant it
