Oni

The outlander walked into town, coverd in gore
He knew he could not wait much longer, he needed more
    Death
    Pain
    Blood...

TerrorOn the high plain they lost their lives
    Hundreds were slain

Why they died no one will knowTheir bloodstains weill allways show for all time
    Wasting no time he began defiling whores
        Tear
        Rape

He would be the last man they felt, a carnivore
    Ravage

MaimOn the high plain they lost their lives
    Hundreds were slain

Their bloodstains will always show for all time
    Firing, loaded rifle, never ending killing spree

Why they died no one knowsSlashing with machette, body parts are the debris fullest extent

    One more town, slowly going down

    There is no escape, he holds your fate as the death rate climbs to the
This is the comming of endless torment[Solo Jack Owen]Remains of the slain, a dead body wasteland
    Unburied victims lie, blood soaking into the sand

fullest extentOne man left, sherif bereft, faces the stranger with intent

    [Solo Pat O'Brien]

    On the high plain they lost their lives

    Hundreds were slain

    Why they died no one will know

    Their bloodstains will always sho for all...

    Time

    Big iron

    Both die

    ExpiredOn the high plain they lost their lives

    Hundreds were slain

    Why they died no one will know

    Their bloodstains will always sho for all...

    Slain
