

Thin Ice

Lenny Kravitz

You must be walkin'
On shaky ground
You're always jumpin'
At every sound
You've been a hustler
For all your days
A real motherfucker
In every way When you're a loser you're all alone
Oh no no no
So you made up for everything
That you thought you'd lost
But you paid a cost
Hey You can live your life for so long
But when you're walking on thin ice you will fall
You can live your life for so long
But when you're walking on thin ice you will fall You're always runnin'
With every game
First pushin' coke
And then you're hoin' dames
You say you can't give nothing better back
Than you got back at home
Well I tell you that's bullshit brother
And that's a heavy load It's an illusion when you think you're the boss
Oh no no no
'Cause you really ain't got a thing
But the crumbs you're tossed
But don't you feel the frost
Hey You can live your life for so long
But when you're walking on thin ice you will fall
You can live your life for so long
But when you're walking on thin ice you will fall You can live your life for so long
But when you're walking on thin ice you will fall
You can live your life for so long
But when you're walking on thin ice you will fall
