Be Honest

A Dream Too Late

Oh, oh did you hear?
You hung me to dry standing right by your side
And I will be honest with you now
'Cause I know that you won'tDon't tell me
I'm not for real
Can't tell me
I'm not for realEverything you promised me
Then you throw it all away
You stabbed my back
So you can say what you want toTell me where's your motive now?
Did you throw it all away?
You've lost my trust
So you can say what you wantOh are you still there?
Or did you forget, pretend to disappear?
And I will be honest with you now
'Cause I know that you won'tDon't tell me
I'm not for real
Can't tell me
I'm not for realEverything you promised me
Then you throw it all away
You stabbed my back
So you can say what you want toTell me where's your motive now?
Did you throw it all away?
You've lost my trust
So you can say what you wantPlanets keep on turning
But the sun it stays the same
Come on you can keep running
But this love will never changePlanets keep on turning
But the sun it stays the same
So come on you can keep running
But this love will never changePlanets keep on turning
But the sun it stays the same
So come on you can keep running
But this love will never changeDon't tell me
I'm not for real
Can't tell me
I'm not for real
I'm not for realTell me where's your motive now?
Did you throw it all away?

You've lost my trust
So you can say what you wantEverything you promised me
Then you throw it all away
You've lost my trust
So you can say what you want
