

Mission

King's X

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

Oh broken body, it's joints at war
Religious vipers sucking royal blood

The price is paid, the final score

The truth exists even through pious mudWho are these people behind the stained glass windows?

Have they forgotten just what they came here for?

Was it salvation or scared of hell

Or an assembly of a social get-together?What's the mission of the Preacher Man?

Some are true, some do lie

What's the mission of the Preacher Man? Yeah, yeah, yeah, yeahA threat of justice, the lazy judge

The governess teaches his son to scream

Adopted child, true path to trudge

No minor plot to undermine his dreamWho are these people behind the stained glass windows ?

Have they forgotten just what they came here for?

Was it salvation or scared of hell

Or an assembly of a social get-together?What's the mission of the Preacher Man?

Some are true, some do lie

What's the mission of the Preacher Man? Yeah, yeah, yeah, yeahBless God, the more I think about it

The more I think I was preaching the truth

I went down to the Cadillac Agency and one hour later

I drove out a new Cadillac, Hallelujah

Say "Praise the Lord," bless God

I'm gonna drive that Cadillac down here and

Get it dusty and dirty and use it for God

Hallelujah, thank You JesusWho are these people behind the stained glass windows?

Have they forgotten just what they came here for?

Was it salvation or scared of hell

Or an assembly of a social get-together?What's the mission of Preacher Man?

Some are true, some do lie

What's the mission of the Preacher Man? Yeah, yeah, yeah, yeahSay what's the mission of preacher, the Preacher Man?

Some are true, some do lie

What's the mission of, of the Preacher Man? Yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah

Yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah
