Nothing Matters

DebÃ³rah Bond

Back and forth, I have come to this
So listen if you are interested in it
I hope you're not too busy to miss
And this epiphany I just had
And I know it's not too sexy
That I'm singing about
The blessings we get
When we give up ourselves
For something good
It would be bigger than a promotion
Motion, motion, motion
Because nothing matters
Just tell yourself again and again
Nothing matters
But what we offer in love
And just today my boss came in
And said no way, no way
We don't have money, money, money
I got so mad, walked out the studio
And there was a man, quiet and hungry
Down and out, true story, yeah uh, huh
And I know it's not too sexy
That I'm singing about
The blessings we get
When we give up ourselves
For something good
It would be bigger than a promotion
So start the motion, start the motion
Start the motion
Nothing matters
Just tell yourself again and again and again
Nothing matters
However else again and again and again
Nothing matters, pride will shatter
Our words will never be enough
'Cause nothing matters
So I'll surrender to you love
And oh, how the war wages on
The battle of my heart

The face, the face the truth is what I want
And all that I've discovered is
Nothing matters
Just tell yourself again and again and again
Nothing matters
However else again and again and again
Nothing matters, pride will shatter
Our words will never be enough
'Cause nothing matters
But love
The things I chase, that status I crave
It's nothing, it's nothing
We invest with the bankers
For not at the makers
Think about it, since I am the culprit
I am no saint, heavy a heart I stand here
Stopped in the way
