Ten Lonely Nights

Mark Collie

Ten lonely nights, ten lonely days
I count the hours since you've been away
Don't know who's wrong, don't know who's right
My heart's been breaking, ten lonely nightsTen little words that's all you said
Still they keep ringing, running through my head
But now you've gone, just as free as a bird
And all it took was ten little wordsEvery day I hang my head and try to understand
Just why you left me here but I don't think I can
Maybe tomorrow I'll be alright
But I've cried and cried for ten lonely nightsTen lonely nights, ten lonely days
I count the hours since you've been away
Don't know who's wrong, don't know who's right
My heart's been breaking, ten lonely nights
My heart's been breaking, ten lonely nights
My heart's been breaking, ten lonely nights
