Honestly (Between You and Me)

Archimedes, Watch Out!

These late nights remind me of the summer, when the days seem long enough to see each other now i'm counting down the hours till the moment you cant see that there is still a little hope for you (and me) so baby honestly know that you're not ready to see this bird's eye view
of a scene that's painted for two
for one night only
and i can't hold out for the day that you can maybe see this my way so here's for you..

and i said "hey, hey hey i don't need you anymore, so please stay hey hey the hell away from me"
and i know that you wont take the time out of your day to see the things that we could be Woah, Woah

(So you run away)
And I've never had a better day than the first time i saw the way to see you through and i might say a prayer for the way (so why cant you see)

this bird's eye view
of a scene that's painted for two
for one night only
and i can't hold out for the day
that you can maybe see this my way
so here's for you..

and i said "hey, hey hey i don't need you anymore,
so please stay hey hey the hell away from me"
and i know that you wont take the time out of your day
to see the things that we could be

It's hard to think this is the end

(i'm so sorry)
with all those moments that we spent (i never meant, to feel this way for you To know the truth)

so why can't you see
this bird's eye view
of a scene that's painted for two
for one night only

and i said "hey, hey hey i don't need you anymore,
so please stay hey hey the hell away from me"
and i know that you wont take the time out of your day
to see the things (that we could be)

and I know that you can't see all the things you've done to me and i, i'm not the one who kept you down..

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/