

We're Through Forever ('Til Tomorrow)

Dolly Parton

(Blaise Tosti) Love's a war we all survive, a never ending compromise

We always seem to say we're through, just to say tomorrow

Babe, I'm still in love with you

Every now and then we fight

So very sure we're both right

Saying things we never mean

Just to take them back tomorrow

And admit how wrong we've been We're through forever 'til tomorrow

That's all we really seem to say

We can't go on with all this sorrow

We've got to find a better way Many times we would fight and I would leave you

Then I'd find, just how much I really need you, and love you

Oh, oh, candle light, a glass of wine

Can bring back vision to the blind

Making love is sweet revenge

And when the battle's over

We're back in love, and we both win
