

Who D'King?

Cheap Trick

Don't call me baby

Don't call me your inspiration

Don't call me jealous

I don't need you

Don't try to use me

You can use your own imagination

Just a little bit of information before I leave you You gotta go for the throat (you can use your own imagination)

You gotta do it alone (just a little bit of information)

I am what I am (you can use your own imagination)

When I go for the throat Don't try to please me

You just give me idle conversation

Doesn't give me any indication or reason

Don't try to use me

You can use your own imagination

Must be some sort of explanation or reason And I go for the throat (you just give me idle conversation)

And I do it alone (you can use your own imagination)

And I am what I am (must be some sort of explanation)

When I go for the throat If I say it again would you listen to me

If I shout it this time

If I say it again would you listen to me

If I shout it this time Get a grip on yourself try to do it in time

Gotta say to yourself

If I say it again would you listen to me

If I shout it this time I can't stand it no more (you can use your own imagination)

I go for the throat (just a little bit of information)

I do it alone (you just give me idle conversation)

I am what I am (you can use your own imagination)

'cause I go for the throat (must be some sort of explanation)

I can't stand it no more (you can use your own imagination)

I am what I am (just a little bit of information)

I do it alone (you just give me idle conversation)

'cause I go for the throat (must be some sort of explanation)

I am what I am (just a little bit of information)

I do it alone (you just give me idle conversation)
