

Train Song

Union Carbide Productions

Try to change your habits try to change your style
Try to break on through to the other side
Gotta find a new place cause you don't wanna stay
And I can't always be that way You're in orbit of fashion you're in orbit of lies
You're a loser waiting for somebodys advice
Well, what's here right now will tomorrow be gone
And I can't always get it wrong
And I can't always get it wrong There's some people talking about yesterday
There's a ship of relations and it's floating away
There's some friends I know who won't be the same
And I can't always miss the train
And I can't always miss the train
