

Tribal

All Saints

One love...With my eyes wide open
I can see more clearly
Cause my heart was captured
By the love she gave me
We are one year older
And we speak more freely
As the world's still turning
Our words run deeplyBlinded by your light
Sunburn to my eyes
Guided by your noise
Heart speak through the night, yeah
Blinded again and all for life, yeah
Tribal
Your love, your love, your love is tribal
Your love, your love, your love is tribal
Your love, your love, your love eh eh ehWhen the world seems empty
You will have my shoulder
And always remember
You are someone's daughter
Join me on this journey
Like a dancing soldier
On the road to freedom
Coming home to hold yaBlinded by your light
Sunburn to my eyes
Guided by your noise
Heart speak through the night, yeah
Blinded again and all for life, yeah
Tribal
Tribal
Your love, your love, your love, tribal
Your love, your love, your love is tribal
Is tribal
Your love, your love, your love eh eh ehOne love...
