VIII. Discount Lobotomy

Pivot

Dark are my desires of late. To sit and watch it all go down. Tears of joy are falling as we wave goodbye.
Struggle, enrage. Stillness takes me. Crumbling faith. Wheres the urgency?All of the time we spent running just to fill up the space.
Everything looks so familiarwhat a getaway.Now back to ugly things. Good riddance to that prison cell. All those walls to keep you safe from all the world.
Cursing in vain. Now wholl save you. Its getting late. Wheres the urgency?All of the time we spent running just to fill up the space.
Everything looks so familiarwhat a getaway.A discount half lobotomy should make it easier to cope. Smile as your vision fades.
Become the lack of urgency.All of the time we spent running just to fill up the space.
Everything looks so familiarwhat a getaway.
