If I Was A Woman

Trace Adkins

blake, if i was a woman trace, if i was a woman
i'd love a man like me i got a spread in oklahoma stretch as far as the eyes can see well i got my own little mountain back home in tennessee (oh hell, listen to this) i got a jet airplane and i can fly you high and far (yeah well, check this baby) i got my own helicopter, i'll pick you up
in your front yard
hey, if i was a woman
yeah, i'd want a man who had a sensitive side well i'd want a man who ain't afraid to cry well i'd love me a man who could love me all night long well i'd love me a man who had the guts to sing this song

no if i was a woman
solo > > > > > yeah, if i-oh, we ain't supposed to sing yet you're too stupid to be a woman hey, kiss my-yeah, if i was a woman

i'd be struck on some beach somewhere (ah that's a good one right there) in my badonka donkin' way, everybody'd stop and stare
your talkin about a long legged woman
no, i'd love a man like me uh, you sounded like a woman on that high note
