

Force of Nature

Graham Parker

Pre>this little shuffle climbs and climbs over the circular chord progression.

It's fun to play. when I look at the lyrics it makes me think this woman

Is one of gp's fictional favourites - the sloane ranger he loves to despise.

It's probably not a real person, but no doubt he knows the type.Intro: bb eb bb eb bb eb bb bbVerse

Eb f

A knife in her boot heel a bonsai tree

Bb c

Bb eb bb eb bb eb

To a force of nature, force of nature, force of nature

Bb bb

That's what she isWith her clouded leopard on a leash in the shed

A vicious black rodent she calls fred

She keeps her diary under the bed

But there's nothin' in it cos it's all in her head

Walkin' round london with foreign banknotes

Throwin' silver nunchucks at cab drivers throats

Being invisible being obscene

Being the person you wish you'd beenChorus repeatBridge

Dm cm7

But inside her heart there's a kid locked away in a room

Dm cm7

Who throws a grenade at your feet that explodes with such force

F bb eb bb

That it bursts your balloon like a force of natureBridge

But inside her heart there's this kid locked away in a room

Who peeks through the door every now and again

And says hey I'm coming out soonVerse
Her raincoat jingles your mercury soars
Every last move defies gravity's laws
Her computer's connected directly to the stars
Keeps her emotions in mason jars
Stored in the attic in the roof near the sky
Up in the rafters where the bats fly
Being impossible being on a roll
Being like something you can't controlChords barred:Bb 6-8-8-7-6-6
