Spring

Ned's Atomic Dustbin

Could you mind be as shallow
As my five o'clock shadow?
Can things change this fast?The one that you wanted is past tense
At present my presence no longer makes sense
At present you're too tenseNow I never said I'm the be-all and end-all
But you had to end it all, as soon as you'd seen more
I never said I was worth less or worth less or worth moreDoes it have to be this ugly?
It's not like i stole your possessions or money
Things change this fastThe one that I wanted is past tense
At present your presence no longer makes sense
At present I'm too tenseBut you'd know it
You'd know it allNow I never said I'm the be-all and end-all
But you had to end it all, as soon as you'd seen more
I never said I was worth less or worth more
