The Jean-Paul Sartre Experience

[Cover of Babylon Zoo's song] Spaceman
I always wanted you to go into space man
Pungent smells, they consummate my home
    Beyond the black horizon
    Trying to take control
See my girl, she shivers in her bones
    The sun and zenith rising
    Trying to take us all
    There's a fire between us
    So where is your god?
    There's a fire between us
I can't get off the carousel
    I can't get off this world
The sickening taste, homophobic jokes
    Images of fascist folks
    Beam me up cause I can't breathe
    Spaceman
I always wanted you to go into space man

Its time to terminate this great white world
    Morbid fascination
    Television takes control
    Decimation, different races fall
    Electronic information
    Tampers with your soul
    There's a fire between us
    So where is your god?
    There's a fire between us
I can't get off the carousel
    I can't get off this world
The sickening taste, homophobic jokes
    Images of fascist folks
    Beam me up cause I can't breathe
    Spaceman
I always wanted you to go into space man
    Spaceman
I always wanted you to go into space man
    Spaceman
I always wanted you to go into space man
