

A Place to Fall Apart

Merle Haggard

I'll probably never see you eye to eye again
This letter's meant to be my last farewell
But you need to understand I'm nearly crazy
You need to know my life has gone to hell Write me back and tell me why it ended
Send a letter that I can show my heart
I'll be somewhere between I love you
And what you're feeling now
Lookin' for a place to fall apart Looking for a place to fall apart
Trying to find a place that I can leave my heart
I need to be somewhere hidin'
When I feel the teardrops start
Lookin' for a place to fall apart I can't seem to justify your leavin' me
I'm bewildered as to how it all came down
I thought everything was fine until your phone call
The call that turned my world around

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>