

Through The Black

Demon Hunter

You say I am

You shove and I've never been the type to turn my back and run

It's just never appealed to me to be the same as everyone

And when it comes to shove and I can't see you through the black

Gonna scream your name till you come back And every time I play with fire, I'm gonna burn, burn, burn

Until I learn

And everytime I do it myself, I'm gonna hate, hate, hate

It's time to get it straight I bury the sick side, I tear from the inside out

I follow the downside, I'm waiting for something else I know that you'll be here and I'll be waiting

I know that you'll be near and I'll be waiting I turn it back and question everything in site

It's like I try to fall again when everything is goin' right

And everything that matters isn't everything in site

It's taking every bit of me to keep this all inside I've never been the type to turn my back and run

It's just never appealed to me to be the same as everyone

And when it comes to shove and I can't see you through the black

I'm gonna scream your name till you come back I bury the sick side, I tear from the inside out

I follow the downside, I'm waiting for something else I know that you'll be here and I'll be waiting

I know that you'll be near and I'll be waiting

I know that you'll be here and I'll be waiting

I know that you'll be near and I'll be waiting Lost my mind and I've lost track

Gonna scream your name till you come back

Lost my mind and I've lost track

Gonna scream your name till you come back

Lost my mind and I've lost track

Scream your name till you come back

Lost my mind and I've lost track

Scream your name

Lost my mind, lost my mind, lost my mind, lost my mind, yeah I know that you'll be here and I'll be waiting

I know that you'll be near and I'll be waiting

I know that you'll be here and I'll be waiting

I know that you'll be near and I'll be waiting I'll be waiting an' I'll be waiting

I'll scream your name till you come back
