Shame Shame Shame

Ratt

I'm knockin' at your door
And there's no answer
I hear the moans and groans
Of your nasty laughterI'm kickin' in the door
As your breathin' gets faster
Your trail of clues
Is leadin' to disasterOnce I looked into your eyes
I thought that they were true
Innocence can turn to lies
And now the finger points at you, babyShame, shame, shame
You should've known better
Than to cheat on meShame, shame, shame
Now it don't matter
So let me beYou've got your own self to blame
Now it's time to feel the pain
Of your twisted little game
It's such a cryin'
Shame, shame, shame
Shame, shame, shameDid you do your poses in the mirror?
Did you tell him? Baby, baby, please
Did you twist his tongue and bend his ear
Did you have him beggin', beggin' on his kneesOnce you looked into my eyes
And told me you were mine
Now I see your cheap disguise
And you're runnin' out of time now, babyShame, shame, shame
You should've known better
Than to cheat on meShame, shame, shame
Now it don't matter
So let me beYou've got your own self to blame
Now it's time to feel the pain
Of your twisted little game
It's such a cryin'
Shame, shame, shame
Shame, shame, shameOh, [Incomprehensible]
There's no answerOnce you looked into my eyes
And told me you were mine
Now I see your cheap disguise
And now the finger points at you, baby
And now you don't know what to do, babyShame, shame, shame

You should've known better
Than to cheat on meShame, shame, shame
Now it don't matter
So let me beShame, shame, shame
You should've known better
Than to cheat on meShame, shame, shame
Now it don't matter
So let me beYou've got your own self to blame
Now it's time to feel the pain
Of your twisted little game
Now it's such a cryin'
Shame, shame, shame
Shame, shame
