More Lost Without You

The Alan Parsons Project

Featuring P.J. Olsson
Written by Alan Parsons and P.J. Olsson
There's not a day
I don't think of your name
The state that I'm in
You're completely to blame
Turn my dreams all to grey
And I'm more and more lost without you
You're a storm in my head
That really blew a new day
A liquid design

Is what you do to my mind
Cause my mind's gone away
And I'm more and more lost without you
More and more lost without you
I was found but then I totally lost you
Don't know a soul that could ever doubt you
That's why I'm more and more lost without you
More and more
