

American Idle

Ian Eskelin

I wanna be on my TV
I wanna wish that I was me
If I could just be 23 forever
I'd be the heartthrob of the tweens Vegas lives inside my veins
Dating Britney is my dream So watch yourself American Idle, cash and style
Tell me what I'm worshiping
American Idle, we need revival
Bigger than the next big thing, that's right
We need to see the light, oh, yeah Disney's renting out my head
Hefner redesigned my bed
My conscience chimes in like a prize announcer
To tell me good times are ahead I snuggle with my credit cards
And I pray ?God bless the mega stars? Go watch yourself American Idle, cash and style
Tell me what I'm worshiping
American Idle, we need revival
Bigger than the next big thing, that's right
We need to see the light, oh, yeah And everybody says Hey
(Hey)
Ho
(Ho)
Throw your mojo out the window Hey
(Hey)
Ho
(Ho)
Lose the world but baby gain your soul, come on American Idle, cash and style
Tell me what I'm worshiping
American Idle, we need revival
Bigger than the next big thing, that's right
We need to see the light And everybody says Hey
(Hey)
Ho
(Ho)
Throw your mojo out the window Hey
(Hey)
Ho
(Ho)
Lose the world but baby gain your soul

Songwriters

ESKELIN, IAN ASHLEY / MCKELVEY, DOUGLAS KAINEPublished by Lyrics Â© Universal Music Publishing Group

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnyrics.com/>