

The Lady Is Waiting

Paul Williams

Brighter than sunshine reflected on water
The smile of the lady is gracious and warm
 Though she's a woman
 She laughs like a child at play
 And the lady is waiting
At the end of my day Waits at the doorway and says that she loves me
 And wants me to tell her that I love her too
 If I have troubles I know she will wish them away
 And the lady is waiting
At the end of my day Waiting to comfort me if I am weary
 Eases my mind
 Waiting to comfort me
 Ready to cheer me ever so gentle and kind
 Sharing my secrets and wishing my wishes
 A whisper of summer is there in her smile
 Softly reflecting our love in the thing that we say
 And the lady is waiting
 At the end of my day
