Lost

Threat Signal

i'm running circles around my illusive head looking for an answer, a reason i'm trying to figure out who is alive and who is dead - is it me or everyone else instead takea picture remember what i have said it's in your mind don't ever deny

Chorus:
as i look into your eyes, i fear we are so blind we're last til' the end of time never wanted to hear what they say never wanted to belive them anyway my vision - this is my own i'm looking for an answer i can't understand getting lost within myself the human mind can never see or comprehond if there is meaning to life after death as i look beyond he sky, i see another life we're lost til' the end of time we can't be confused and question the life we ensue what is there after life? is this what we call life? how can we be so blind? what if this is our lives? the pain we hold inside, in death we all will die if it's our only life, don't waste all our time live life before you die
