God Pounds His Nails (Live At Wacken 2013)

Fozzy

Well I wonder bout the hunger

That I've felt inside

Forced changes causing longing

I gave my will to surviveDon't wait for tomorrow

Make it today

You'll never find a better time to lean on your faith

So drop to your knees

Before it's too late

And reach up to the skyHey Hey Hey

Like a thunderbolt from Heaven

Swinging that hammer

You know that God He pounds his nailsOne...Two...Three

When that drum beats up in Heaven

Swinging that Hammer

You know that God He pounds his nailsSeven wishes unchained madness

Paid the price for a dream

Fates warning

Forever thinking

God decides sight unseenDon't wait for tomorrow

Make it today

You'll never find a better time to lean on your faith

So drop to your knees

Before it's too late

And reach up to the skyHey Hey Hey

Like a thunderbolt from Heaven

Swinging that hammer

You know that God He pounds his nailsOne...Two...Three

When that drum beats up in Heaven

Swinging that Hammer

You know that God He pounds his nails Then I stop and look and die

And never have to wonder why

I'm screaming but I remember that

God pounds his nails.
