Belial's Bride

As a spirit leaves a man, it seeks rest in arid places. It will then find seven stronger demons to over that same man!

Can't fight the urge that you feel as your thoughts are flooded with need. Labeled as a child of God, but compromise seems to supersede. Look how the footsteps of your righteousness are darkened every day. Watch now as the the force that compels you prove once saved is not always saved.

Was it not for freedom that Christ brought you to salvation? So easily enticed to pursue your sin natures resurrection.

Once liberated from this bondage to decay. Your body is once again a prisoner of death!

Death is the benefit that you will reap when you return to the ways that you were once ashamed of.

The baptism is washed away. The cesspool overflows. This lost soul once was saved, becoming twice the son of hell.

Your so quick to forget the devices of the evil one, making yourself a mark....
The demons seek to devour!
Temptation comes gradually, you'll never that you're being beguiled.
As you fulfill the craving of you flesh, you'll find yourself in greater need....
Demonic enslavement has been empowered!
You now are the earthen vessel of the lawless one's iniquity.

With hatred towards the saints of God, demons engraft their evil love. From soul to soul the yeast will spread.
The saints will become spiritually dead. Immoral virgin, drunken sloth; the accuser has the brethren lost.
Lusting for the world, is the demonized bride. While you slept, Satan fucked your mind.

Secrets will be disclosed. Hypocrisy for the fire. Behold this christian sinner: Infested with evil desire!

Wake up demonized bride! Satan has fucked your mind!
