

Clash of The Titans

Nate MC Vs. DJ SD

Make certain that no stone stands
That no creature crawls
I command you to let loose the last of the titans
It's time to strike
Let the rain pour down from God above
With the blood of my blade, no love, begin the flood
Open the gates, let the battle begin, wherein
With wind at our backs, ready for any attacks
Sound the horns, prepare for war, begin the storm
The flaming arrows hitting your body, keeping you warm
With the uniform of my sworn enemies
You raped and pillaged my city and spread disease
Feel the sword of the warrior's wrath, the path you take
Can lead to the math that the masters break
The clash of the titans, are you frightened of loss?
Fighting with the cause to free, you and yours and God's law
Look in the stars, aligned with sign and Mars
Destruction, what's your function, you roll with God
Attention
Attention
The soul of the master's elements, disaster
Breaking ya faster, transmitting the broadcaster
The blade swings, slashing your throat
The vision's on the mission, seeking the note
Dropping the bomb, by remote
Load up the cavalries, no salaries, the keys
The life's memories, strife bringing the thieves
Cut the heads off, hide in the loft, don't even cough
Or breath, pay the cost, moving your life's lost

Let the spirit reunite, with your weapon, you wanna fight
Hear the sound of the warriors stepping into the night
The eye in the sky, looking to punish ya, never hide
No cover to shelter your life, the souls begin to rise
And to clash
Attention
Attention
God's enemies, fall in upon, the knees crawling
Beheading the dead souls, who run away from their calling

Behold, the white horse, remorse, never the case
Every corner of the world, the battle is taking place
    Let the war drum set the pace, you face fire
Resume, from the Temple of Boom and seek higher thought
    Maybe you live, or maybe not, the blade's hot
    Many renegades ready for battle, die on the spot
    With one shot, one whole city becomes rocked
        The clash rages on, people remain calm
        Good, bad, all in the balance, you going mad
        You can never tell, heaven or hell, the bloodshed
        And it's all around, you can't run, sit in the cell
When the war's over, the light will shine, covering the spell
    Celebrate now, put the blades to rest
    No wickedness, only the blessed will hold down
        Attention
        You creating hysteria
        Attention
        Attention
