Disarm Me (with Your Loneliness)

Him

The promise of heaven pushed us right back to hell
Turned three sevens into three sixes again
And you laughed at my face when i told you how much it hurts
And said...
Disarm me with your loneliness just like always before
Deceive me out of my emptiness telling me how you love
You keep on tempting me to go on whatever the cost
To witness the prettiest flower in bloom wither to dust
So I'll break all the rules in this endless game once called love
For you...
Disarm me with your loneliness just like always before
Deceive me out of my emptiness telling me how you love

Me with all your heart
No more
Disarm me with your loneliness just like always before
Disarm me with your loneliness just like always before
Deceive me out of my emptiness telling me how you love
Me with all your heart
No more
Tell me how much you miss my warmth
Tell me how my kiss can change your world
Tell me how much it hurts to be alone
Lie to me that you love me with all your heart
No more
