

Won

The Bots

I want to go away
To find me in my place
Would be another state of mind i can't retain
I've thought about some ways
To open up my brain
The volume speaks too loud
I never try to doubt itI never try to doubt it
And when it comes i shout at it and everyone
My friends will laugh untill the every single've won
Actions, take over, on me
Conflicted, to be
Someone you're not
The crowd, it's over
To see, you lying
But you don't make an effort
I never thought about it
I never try to doubt it
And when it comes i shout at it and everyone
My friends will laugh untill the every single've wonI never try to doubt it
And when it comes i shout at it and everyone
My friends will laugh untill the every single've won
