

When We Were Lovers

Jack Savoretti

I remember dancing in the pouring rain
Calling you up just to say your name
We felt like lovers
We felt like lovers Reaching for your hand when you pulled away
Everytime I'd leave you'd beg me to stay
We felt like lovers
Living life under covers We'd sail through love and war
We'd fight for everything and more
To save the night, the night was all we saw
That's what the darkness is for Look at the time and the time that it's taken
Is this love like the love we were making
When we were lovers, when we were lovers, when we were lovers, when we were lovers? Two hearts beating in stereo
We never needed maps to tell us where to go
We followed the stars
But they took us too far We'd sail through love and war
We'd fight for everything and more
To save the night, the night was all we sew
That's what the darkness is for Look at the time and the time that it's taken
Is this love like the love we were making
When we were lovers, when we were lovers, when we were lovers, when we were lovers? Giving it all was everything we were giving
Living for each other was why we were living
When we were lovers, when we were lovers (living life under covers) Here we are slowly falling apart
Every broken promise is a broken heart Look at the time and the time that it's taken
Is this love like the love we were making
When we were lovers, when were lovers, when we were lovers, when we were lovers? Giving it all was everything we were giving
Living for each other was why we were living
When we were lovers, when we were lovers (living life under covers) It felt like love, love
Felt like love, oh
Oh, oh, yeah
