Believe Again

Sarah Kelly

Maybe I trusted blind too many times and on it goes
Maybe I can't see straight and all this weight is numbing me slow
I'm scared to death to let you in, I'm broken and IFeel my heart beating, believe in so deeply
In the light that guides my way
All my tomorrows and yesterdays sorrows
Fade in the passion here todayCan you teach me how to feel again, to believe again?
Can you show me what is real again, to be free again?
This light inside has one more try
And one more chance toFeel my heart beating, believe in so deeply
In the light that guides my way
All my tomorrows and yesterdays sorrows
Fade in the passion here todayIt's time to let it go, let it goFeel my heart beating, believe in so deeply
In the light that guides my way
All my tomorrows and yesterdays sorrows
Fade in the passion here today
