The Gadjits

Sometimes I wonder why I try so hard.
To capture and obtain all I see into my brain.
I sit in back of class.
Don't talk to no one.
'cause I don't know no one. I'll just ignore you if you talk to me.
Yeah, I never understood your games.
Paranoid about my feelings towards you and I'm getting board with you.
'cause your dependant like a leech.
Your sucking all my blood away. I'm so glad you haven't stayed.
Your everywhere that I turn.
And I think its time that you learn.
Don't believe the trusted.
There gonna bring you down.
Just like a dog without a face.
Your anicdote depressants never get you anyplace.
You think in circles, never clearly.
People ask me if I like you and I always say not really.
Your the girl who talks too fucking much.
Always got to get your fill of embarrassment to get your well.
I guess we know the real score.
Despite what other kids might cry your stupid and I know you lie.
Your everywhere that I turn.
And I think its time that you learn.
Don't believe the trusted.
There gonna bring you down.
