Thinskinned

Dolorean

It only takes one burr
under the saddle.
And you and I babe
oh we do battle.Seems like we're just too,
thinskinned,
thinskinned,
thinskinned,
thinskinned.I've got my brother's car for the weekend
a full tank of gass.
Let's drive north
till we hit the river
then let's head west.
This old coast town
Is full of taverns and motels.
Let's stay here for a while.
Now, I'm doing my best
to see your point of view, If you can do your best to try to see that I'm not such a bad guy.I'm just a little
thinskinned,
thinskinned,
thinskinned,
thinskinned,I can't believe it would be better
if I was hard as nails,
and you were tough as leather.
Oh no,
I can't believe it would be better
If I was hard as nails,
and you were tough as leather, oh no.
