

All the Birds

Lou Rhodes

Been waiting for this song to come, and fall into my heart
Just when I thought I was undone, the end was just the start
And all the birds in this blue sky begged before my aching eyes
I stared before an open sea, and all I saw was blue
But there you were in front of me, and I melted into you
And all the birds in this blue sky begged before my
aching eyes
Ooh la la...
An angel you appeared to me, when all seemed dead and gone
And I've rocked it heavily to turn around your sun
And all the birds in this blue sky begged,
And all the birds in this blue sky...
Before my aching eyes
La la la...
Ooh...

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>