My Own Sake

Nonpoint

"Just be patient" the best advise I did not take.
"Super stellar first impression" i did not make.
My own insecurities are not as bad as you make them out to be,
and out time is running out so fast.
I move this fast, and i make mistakes for my own sake.
Can't you see that all of your times are wasting while we're wasted?
Tripping over (and over and over) our own feet when we look too hard, for what's older, older, yes older.

Then the day we got to this world that enough for me to make a good impression when I'm walking through the door.
I move this fast, and i make mistakes for my own sake.
I'll do what i have to, to be everything you want me to.
Without putting you through all the questions I'd like to mention to you.
I move this fast, and i make mistakes for my own sake.
