

Blue Eyed Boy

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

In silence and forgotten
Is where I'll be
Til a gentle hearted stranger rescues me
Talk to me how you comfort me
I'm bitter and I'm twisted
Turn me out
And still I am addicted
To fear and doubt
Cut it out I'm coming home now baby
I'm coming home
I'm coming home now baby
I'm coming
I'm coming home now baby
I'm coming home
I'm coming home now baby (yeah yeah) See the world through a window
A thousand miles
But in my heart I'm drifting to your tired eyes
Close your eyes The days push out a rhythm
On the open ground
I want to be back where we started
Turn it round
Make it safe and sound I'm coming home now baby
I'm coming home
I'm coming home now baby
I'm coming
I'm coming home now baby
I'm coming home
I'm coming home now baby (yeah yeah) Used to be so hell bound
Certain to find my place in the sun
But the sun's been shining every day
And my work is never done
Sometimes I feel I might be wasting my time

But then I wake up screaming and realize I'm dreaming
And know it's finally my time I'm coming home now baby
I'm coming home
I'm coming home now baby
I'm coming
I'm coming home now baby
I'm coming home
I'm coming home now baby (yeah yeah) I'm coming home now baby
