

My Life Before Today

House Of Fools

Sooner or later this will fall apart
It takes more than science to save a failing heart
I wanted to keep you and hide you from the sun
But no one could reach youYou say I'm a black hole
 Singularity
 My own supernova
 A blazing blind catastrophe
 And for once I was a star
 A long time before that
Somebody's sunBut enough of these pointless noises
 Enough of just counting down
 This is not a test
 If love is not the answer
 Then maybe I misunderstood Oh the question
Oh there must be someway out of thisWe stand in a circlehand in hand in hand
 There's talk of a comet
 Over moon and land
 The sand has run out of the glass
 We stand in a circle
We stand in a lineBut enough of these pointless noises
 Enough of just counting down
 This is not a test
If hope is not the answer then maybe I misunderstood Oh the question
 Because there must be someway
 I want it so so..
There's always somewayWell enough of these final nothings
 There's no time to reconsider
So love was not the answer but maybe I misunderstood the question
 Because it must be somewhere
 I read it somewhere
 There's always someway
