

Dreamers At Heart

Silje Nergaard

I'm back to chasing light must be sure I keep in sight how to change my lows to highs and how to make my sunsets rise you help that spark to glow but if it fades well you just know when to bide your time and when to breathe it back to life again follow those dreams forgotten and so far still a lot of good ones in the jar we were always dreamers at heart so safe within our walls we stay although the highway calls round and round in circle dance with nothing ever left to chance Love and Life and music's fine this dance is ours, yours and mine step by step we'll find our feet hoping hearts will skip a beat ... and follow ... you don't have to tell me where you're going if something's wrong you know you've got a friend I'll learn to live with never knowing when or if our roads will cross again so below the stars above falling in and out of love letting go of shattered dreams knowing all's not what it seems taking turns at being wrong knowing you and I belong in this castle that we share even though it's built on air follow ...
