

Skalds and Shadows

Blind Guardian

Would you believe in a night like this?
A night like this, when visions come true
Would you believe in a tale like this
A lay of bliss, praising the old lore
Come to the blazing fire and See me in the shadows
See me in the shadows Songs I will sing of runes and rings
Just hand me my harp, this night turns into myth
Nothing seems real, you soon will feel
The world we live in is another skalds Dream in the shadows
Dream in the shadows Do you believe there is sense in it
Is it truth or myth, they're one in my rhymes
Nobody knows the meaning behind
The weaver's line, well, nobody else But the Norns can see
See through the blazing fires of time
And all things will proceed
As the child of the hallowed
Will speak to you now See me in the shadows
See me in the shadows Songs I will sing of tribes and kings
The carrion bird and the hall of the slain
Nothing seems real, you soon will feel
The world we live in is another skalds Dream in the shadows
Dream in the shadows Do not fear for my reason, there's nothing to hide
How bitter your treason, how bitter the lie
Remember the runes and remember the light
All I ever want is to be at your side We'll gladden the raven, now I will Run through the blazing fires, that's my choice
'Cause things shall proceed as foreseen
