

Collide

Jake Miller

I'm falling out of the sky
I feel so alive
My heart ignites when our eyes collide
Ohh yeah, collide
Ohh yeah, collide Don't hold back, crash into me
We catching fire, like a third degree
Need someone to hold, sick of being alone
So I'm rounding third and I'm coming home
'cause I need your touch and I need it now
We can go to lunch and then mess around
So baby if you with it, you can come and get it
We can build an empire in a New York minute
Me and you stop in time, all of the stars align
His is what it feels like.
When we collide
When we collide
When we collide I'm falling out of the sky, I feel so alive
My heart ignites, when our eyes collide
Ohh yeah, collide
Ohh yeah, collide I'm gone, hungover, I'm love drunk and that's sober
Yeah it's do or die, baby you and I
We should get just a little bit closer
So baby come hop up on my range, swerve
These other girls, I kick em to the side, curb
Your love rains down like a meteor shower
That's crashing down on earth, whoa Me and you stop in time,
All of the stars align
This is what it feels like
When we collide
When we collide
When we collide Me and you stop in time,
All of the stars align
This is what it feels like.
Me and you stop in time,
All of the stars align
This is what it feels like.
When we collide
When we collide
When we collide

When we collide
When we collide.
