Good Light

Drew Holcomb

Wasting time and wasting money,
you've been acting like a fool.
You spend your while life
fighting for a guarantee,
when all you really need is a friend.

Hey, there's a good light, shining in you.
There's a magic in your eyes
Hey, there's a good light, shining though,
and I need it tonight.

You've been looking for rhyme and reason,
The confusion is dragging you down.
You got lost in the chaos.
You got lost in the ashes and dust.
What you needed was someone to trust.

Hey, there's a good light, shining in you.
There's a magic in your eyes
Hey, there's a good light, shining though,
and I need it tonight.

We're all stumbling though the darkness.
No one can stay there and still make it though

Hey, there's a good light, shining in you.
There's a magic in your eyes
Hey, there's a good light, shining though,
and I need it tonight.

Lyrics submitted by Jill No.

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/