All I Was

Tremonti

Would you finally know it when it came? Would it have a reason, have a name? Would you truly hate it when it's gone? And curse it all alongAll I was So unlike the way you know me All these dreams Are so unlike the way they were beforeWould it finally change you, will you break? Would it leave you angered, 'cause you pain? Could it be the threat's already gone? And was it all along? All I was So unlike the way you know me All these dreams Are so unlike the way they were before BeforeAll I was So unlike the way you know me All these dreams Are so unlike the way they were before
