

When It's All Said and Done

Drew Holcomb & The Neighbors

Time steals every paradise I've been looking for My heart feels like the hardwood of the kitchen floor
Ya it's beat up and bruised and broken
But more beautiful than it was before
Love is not something you can buy or borrow
When it's all said and done
When the party is over
When it's all said and done
I'll still be your lover
And i felt like i was standing on a bridge
I didn't know how to cross
And the silence was as loud as lightning
And I was absolutely lost
We all need more time
We all need more forgiveness
Mercy is not something you can steal or shatter
When it's all said and done
When the party is over
When it's all said and done
I'll still be your lover
There in the depths you found me
But I could not recognize
Like a fog lifted off of the mountain
To watch the sun rise
Ya to watch the sun rise
When it's all said and done
When the party is over
When it's all said and done
I'll still be your lover

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>