Legend of Steel

Luca Turilli

The sky became darker when the news there came
His cruel father was coming too fast
Leaving behind him cancer and sorrow
So satisfying his thirst for vengeanceIt's time to call the wisdom of the wind
The whisper of the shadows
The sword and the shield the power of the steel
To win the mask of hellFace the king, ride the wind for the legend of steel
Leave dark hell behind you forever
Face the king, ride the wind for the legend of steel
Break the chains of the past forever, face the kingAnd so the day came, son against father
Clash of their weapons at the crash of thunder
Hard was the fight in that unholy night so red the ice was never
The sword and the shield the power of the steel to win the mask of hellFace the king, ride the wind for the legend of steel
Leave dark hell behind you forever
Face the king, ride the wind for the legend of steel
Break the chains of the past forever, face the kingOh beholder, what did you do? May the Lord forgive your action
The black raven is now flying while the brave one's slowly dying
But he swears with his last breath I'll be back
To take you to dark altar, the kingdom of painFace the king, ride the wind for the legend of steel
Leave dark hell behind you forever
Face the king, ride the wind for the legend of steel
Break the chains of the past forever, face the king
Face the king, face the king, face the king

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/