Fortitude

Desolate

My conscience bears the weight
Of a dark distorted fate
Nothing's set in stone
Make hast the changes

I will break away
The misconceptions on my intentions
I will leave this state
Alleviate a tainted history

I know that I have lived
A thousand lies
And severed my emotions
Now you'll see
The best of me
I'm redefining the soldier within

Finally realized
I've been feeding my inner demons
How can I justify
Turning my back on my allies

I will break the chains
Freeing myself form disarray
I'll eliminate
The enemies that stand in my way

Where there's a will there's a way
Hold on
You'll see
Where there's a will there's a way

Broken down and paralyzed
I'm facing immanent demise
The time has come to rectify
