

A Step Back

Evans Blue

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

Embrace the atmosphere
Save face but have your fill
Never mind the rules in here
And don't believe 'em I know you'll, you'll fall through Replace your life with fear
Withdrawing your love here
I know you, you want to You don't feel the absence
You won't see the pain I'm taking a step back from inside
Forsaking the life that I once had
I've tried, I hate that you already do
I'm making a run from the dark side
Replacing the night with the sunlight
I've tried, I hate that you already do Separate your faults in life
And get used to bloodshot eyes
Never mind the sleepless nights
Just follow your own fight I know you'll, you'll fall through Replace your fear with life
Withdrawing this spotlight
I know you, you'll want too You don't feel the absence
You won't see the pain I'm taking a step back from inside
Forsaking the life that I once had
I've tried, I hate that you already do
I'm making a run from the dark side
Replacing the night with the sunlight
I've tried, I hate that you already do Fuck you for lying
For pointing and then hiding
You must be right, it must be true
Fuck me for dreaming
For trying to find my meaning
What was I thinking, it's all for you I'm taking a step back from inside
Forsaking the life that I once had
I've tried, I hate that you already do

I'm making a run from the dark side
Replacing the night with the sunlight
I've tried, I hate that you already do
